

Seattle's Seawall Gets a Facelift!

WATERFRONT 2020
SEAWALL

Ken Johnsen, project manager for the $330 million Elliott Bay Seawall Project, will give us an update

Tuesday, 10:30 May 3rd, Mt. Baker Room

The new seawall is a major component of the miraculous transformation taking place along Seattle's waterfront. It's not been without its share of engineering and budgetary challenges, but it promises significant, safety, recreational and business upgrades.

Ken will describe our future waterfront and when we'll be able to use it.
